Why Become a PECB Certified Trainer?

All PECB training courses worldwide are delivered by PECB Certified Trainers who go through a rigorous certification process that evaluates their knowledge, skills, experience, and competences for a given scheme. Trainer certification is a mandatory process that all PECB Trainers must go through. Any individual that meets the criteria and requirements set forth in this document can become a PECB Certified Trainer.

The role of a PECB Certified Trainer is to provide trainees with the knowledge and skills to perform better in their role or position. To do so, trainers should be well-prepared and organized, stay up to date with current trends, have strong communication and interpersonal skills, and display loyalty to their trainees and PECB.

Trainer Certification Requirements and Application

Besides the prerequisites, candidates need to go through the Trainer Certification Program. After submitting the Eligibility Form, and in case of an initial application approval, each candidate needs to make sure to fulfill the following steps:

Step 1: PECB Certification

Each candidate needs to have the PECB Certification of the respective training course(s) intended to be delivered (e.g., to be able to deliver the ISO/IEC 27001 Lead Auditor training course, the trainer must have the ISO/IEC 27001 Lead Auditor certification issued by PECB).

There are two ways to obtain the PECB Certification:

- Taking a PECB training course through a PECB Partner and passing the exam. Passing the exam is mandatory to apply for certification.
- Sending the professional certification(s) issued by a certification body accredited under ISO/IEC 17024. For this, an equivalency process follows, and if successful, the candidate will be invited to apply for the PECB Certification.

For trainers wanting to deliver courses in different Families of Standards, additional evidence may be required by PECB at any time of the trainer certificate cycle, to be submitted through the website or via email.

*The candidate must have at least one PECB Lead certification.

Step 2: Trainer Agreement

The trainer should read, agree, and sign the PECB Trainer Agreement. The matters below and more, must be acknowledged in the agreement.

- Misrepresentation or unauthorized possession of PECB certificates
- Usage of PECB Certification Mark/Logo
- Compliance with the PECB Code of Ethics

Step 3: PECB Trainer Role Introduction

Each candidate is required to watch the PECB Trainer Role Introduction video which provides a closer look into the PECB services, including what PECB expects from its Trainers. Watching the entire video is mandatory, and candidates cannot proceed until the video is finished.

Step 4: Quiz

Each candidate must take a short quiz consisting of questions entirely based on the content of the PECB Trainer Role Introduction video. Passing the quiz is mandatory to proceed with further steps. The quiz can be retaken up to three times. Candidates can retake the quiz two times.

Step 5: Questionnaire

Each candidate must complete a short questionnaire consisting of questions related to their previous work experience, any related experience to delivering trainings, and general knowledge of ISO standards.

Step 6: Trainer Demo Presentation

Each candidate must submit a short video demonstration of their presentation skills and knowledge on the chosen standard. The language of the video and presentation must be only in English, French, or Spanish. The video can be recorded multiple-times, but only one video can be submitted as a final step.

Once all steps have been completed, the application will be automatically submitted to the PECB Trainer Program Manager for review. The evaluation process can take up to two (2) weeks and is based on the following criteria:

- Teaching abilities
- Communication skills
- Professional experience
- Familiarity with the ISO standards

Depending on the evaluation results, a candidate can be asked to submit additional documentation or comply with additional requirements such as following a training session, delivering a training course under supervision, or passing an exam.

For candidates whose applications are accepted, a profile will be automatically created, and they will receive the “PECB Certified Trainer” certificate.
